

BACKSTAGE HELP NEEDED

Now that we are running the show, the costume and props folks are asking for help backstage with the kids and costume changes. We need people starting immediately. Meg Crossett is coordinating backstage parent volunteers and there is a sign up sheet at the box office. The issue is that we need parents or helpers starting Tuesday night. Costume changes are fast and the counselors and prop/costume people can not handle the volume. Please consider coming in and helping. Thank you.

COSTUME NOTES

Please take off all jewelry before coming to rehearsal. Girls in the Candy Man scene who are wearing skirts must wear shorts or leggings underneath. Please wear white boxers or neutral colored underwear under the white boxer shorts. We need winter clothing in the winter scene -- no short sleeve shirts, shorts, etc. Costume changes are fast, please organize your things in your bin to help with this, and when you leave at the end of rehearsal, try to set things up for the next day.

TICKET SALES UPDATE

Things are starting to pick up, but we really need you out talking up the show leading into this first weekend. The momentum and "buzz" will help carry us into the second weekend. If you've sent e-mails, and delivered flyers, thank you. If you are willing to make personal phone calls, that's even better. People have a hard time saying "no" to a live person. Keep at it!

TOY TRUCKS NEEDED

If you have any medium sized toy trucks we can borrow, please send them in. We can label them so that you can get them back at the end.

Just three more rehearsals. Make each one count by bringing your energy, your singing voices and remember THINK POSITIVE!!

Thanks,
Sarah Meiburg
Executive Producer
Sarah.meiburg@hazelnutmarketing.com