

CELL PHONES & OTHER ELECTRONIC DEVICES

The directors have noticed that some in the cast are texting, talking on their cell phone or checking e-mail during rehearsal. This is distracting for other cast members and will cause you to miss important information being conveyed by the director, choreographer or counselor. It is also disrespectful. Your cell phones need to be put away during rehearsal. If you are a Summer Star, and you are caught texting or using your phone during rehearsal, it will be taken away and given back to you at the end of rehearsal. We hope the teens and adults will also respect this rule during rehearsal. We have just a few short weeks to pull this together and we need everyone's full attention during rehearsals.
